OVERVIEW

This report was developed in conjunction with leading UK banks and meets lending-security compliance, and addresses your obligations under The Law Society's Practice Note on contaminated land.

The report includes detailed environmental data on contaminated land, flood risk, ground stability and geological hazards and utilises a range of datasets to ensure a reliable overview of risk.

The report utilises Groundsure's unique historical land use database, this features detailed and specific land use information dating back over 175 years. It also contains datasets from trusted data providers including the Environment Agency and the British Geological Survey.

The data is reviewed and an opinion is provided by specialists within Groundsure's consultancy team, who are on hand to answer any questions you may have about the findings within the Screening report. Environmental insurance is available if required.
