Pollutant	Local modelled reading (annual average)	UK Air Quality Objective (annual average)	UK Air Quality Objective (variable)
NO _x	16 µg/m ³	30 µg/m ³	N/A
NO ₂	12 µg/m ³	40 µg/m ³	200 µg/m ³ (per hour - not be exceeded more than 18 times a year)

PM _{2.5}	9 µg/m ³	25 µg/m ³	N/A

Notes

Pollutant	Details
NO _x	NO ₂ and NO are both oxides of nitrogen and together are referred to as nitrogen oxides (NO _x)
NO ₂	Nitric oxide (NO) is mainly derived from road transport emissions and other combustion processes such as the electricity supply industry. NO is not considered to be harmful to health. However once released to the atmosphere NO is usually very rapidly oxidized mainly by ozone (O ₃) to nitrogen dioxide (NO ₂) which can be harmful to health.
PM ₁₀	Particulate Matter less than 10µm in aerodynamic diameter. Particles less than or equal to 10 micrometers in diameter are so small that they can get into the lungs potentially causing serious health problems. Ten micrometers is less than the width of a single human hair.
PM _{2.5}	Particulate Matter less than 2.5µm in aerodynamic diameter. Particles less than or equal to 10 micrometers in diameter are so small that they can get into the lungs potentially causing serious health problems. Particles of this size can only be seen with an electron microscope.

Planning data limitations

The Planning Applications section of this report contains data provided under licence from Glenigan, who are the largest provider of planning data in the UK. As with any dataset of this size and complexity there are limitations, which are highlighted below. The location of applications as “exact” relates to a point within or close to the development, but does not represent the nearest border. Locations marked “proximity” are estimated from the site address details or similar and should not be considered as an accurate representation of the project’s location. Due to differing methodologies adopted by Local Authorities, some planning applications identified as having been refused may have subsequently been granted on appeal without appearing as such within this report. As such, if any refused applications be identified within this report, or should the existence or absence of a planning application, consent or similar have a material impact with regard to the decision to purchase a property, the client or beneficiary should make independent thorough enquiries of the local authority. Groundsure provides a web link to individual planning records in this report, but over time Local Authorities may have altered their website structure or record storage and so not all links may still be active. In the case of broken links, customers can use the planning application reference to search the Local Authority planning website manually.

It is important to note the terms and conditions under which the report was sold, and in particular, whilst Groundsure makes every effort to ensure that data is sourced from reliable providers, it is unable to ensure that the information is accurate, complete or up to date. Groundsure shall not be liable for any losses or damages incurred by the client or beneficiary, including but not limited to any losses or damages that arise as a result of any error, omission or inaccuracy in any part of the Groundsure Materials where such part is based on any Third Party Content or any reasonable interpretation of Third Party Content.

The Ombudsman can award compensation of up to £5,000 to you if they find that you have suffered actual loss as a result of your search provider failing to keep to the Code.
